PEMBROKE, KY.

A Progressive and Flourishing Town.

A Sketch of her Business Interests, Schools, Churches and Inhabitants.

Though but one Generation has Passed Since Pembroke Became a Post Office, the town is now one of the most prosperous in Christian County, and does a business of $300,000 A Year.

LOCATED IN A FINE FARMING SECTION, WITH RAILWAY FACILITIES, PEMBROKE IS DESTINED TO BE A TOWN OF NO SMALL PRETENSIONS.

HER BUSINESS INDUSTRIES AND INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS REVIEWED.

The thriving little town of Pembroke, Ky., is situated in Christian county, 10 miles south of Hopkinsville on the L. & N. railroad. It is a town of considerable importance and has a wide-awake, intelligent and public-spirited class of citizens who are fully alive to the interests of their town and keep abreast of the times in all that promotes the prosperity of the people. The population of Pembroke numbers about 400 and the town is rapidly growing in commercial importance.

ITS HISTORY.

Pembroke post office was first instituted in Todd county, near the Christian county line. Lunsford Lindsay was the first postmaster. He had a blacksmith's shop on his farm, on the Davis mill road. It was moved from his place to Christian county to a place owned by Dr. Conley, on the Nashville road from Hopkinsville. He had a storehouse on the place which was occupied by various parties for some years. It was then moved about one quarter of a mile to a storehouse built by Thos. Smith who was made postmaster. After a few years the office was again moved to the residence of R. C. Jamieson, who was then postmaster. He built a storehouse where the Tobacco road crosses the Nashville road in 1843 or 1849 and the Pembroke of to-day was founded. Its growth dated from its inception and the embryo town in 1850 did a business of $10,000. The railroad was built through the town soon after the close of the late war and there has been a gradual increase in the business of the town until it now amounts to $300,000 a year. It has a score or more business houses and all of the merchants seem to be doing a money-making business. As a class they are noted for their urbanity, enterprise and uprightness and no town can boast of a better lot of business men. Many of them are mature in years and of large experience and owning their business houses and being well-to-do they take few risks and sell goods on close margins and as equally as cheap as the same can be bought in larger places.

THE CHURCHES.

The Christian denomination is the only one that has a house of worship inside the corporate limits of the town. Their building is a frame structure and is a very good house. It must not be inferred from the fact that Pembroke has but one church that her people are not imbued with a proper spirit of christianity. Bethel Baptist church is situated only about one mile distant, and about two-thirds of its members live in and about Pembroke. Some of the best citizens have taken in hand the matter of having a Baptist church built in the town and it is thought that the project will be carried through to success by September.

THE SCHOOLS.

Pembroke Male and Female Institute is presided over by Prof. E. J. Murphy. There are in attendance 29 pupils and during the year 41 have been enrolled and the prospects for the future are very good. The building is a handsome frame and it is well supplied with patent desks, folding seats, charts, globes, etc. Prof. Murphy is a capable and experienced teacher and under his administration the Institute deserves increasing prosperity. He teaches all branches of a scientific and literary education. Prof. V. A. Garnett also has a private school and teaches about 30 pupils in his own school house. He is a gentleman of scholarly attainments and long experience as an instructor and his school is a first-class one. Mrs. Peay is music teacher for both schools and possesses very superior qualifications as a teacher in her department. Prof. Garnett's school is one of the fixtures of the town, as he has been a teacher for many years. His library, which we have had the pleasure of inspecting, is one of the finest and most complete collections of valuable books in the county.

modious and well arranged room which is used for public entertainments, balls, skating, etc. It is provided with a stage with scenery and small traveling theatrical troupes find it a very good hall to play in.

The Skating Rink properties are owned by a stock company composed of the young men of the town and as conducted the amusement is agreeable to all.

The Neuclei Mills owned and operated by Mr. F. C. Hollis, are one of the substantial industries of the town. Mr. W. Hollis also has a planing mill and undertaker's establishment.

There are two tobacco warehouses, and one grain warehouse, all operated by sound and enterprising firms. The post office is in the depot and Mr. Owen J. Smith, a young gentleman of fine business qualification and affable manners, is the postmaster. He is also local agent for the L. & N. railroad, telegraph operator and express agent. He is a young man who makes a useful citizen.

PROFESSIONAL AND SOCIAL.

Officers of the law meet with justice at the hands of Esq. J. R. Peick, the magistrate of the town.

Pembroke has three lawyers, one being Hon. C. N. Pendleton, ex-State Senator. Mr. Thos. Hanna is also a disciple of Blackstone, and Mr. F. B. Richardson is a graduate of a law school, but has recently adopted the profession of a commercial tourist.

Drs. W. H. Marshall, B. L. Leavell, J. O. Brown, D. E. Bell, J. M. Robinson, Robt. and John Morrison are the physicians of the town.

Prof. E. J. Murphy, besides teaching school, is also agent for a number of excellent insurance companies.

Col. C. N. Pendleton, the town Trustee, is making the town look very much improved by having plank walks put down, and the streets improved. He is considered the best custodian of the public interests the town has ever had.

ARE YOU MARRIED?

YOU SAY YOU ARE BUT ARE YOU?

Where is Your Certificate?—A Few Questions for Married People—How Ministers Fail to Keep up the Record.

Kentucky has the reputation of being a good State in which to easily obtain a divorce on account of the numerous grounds laid down in the statutes upon which any court of jurisdiction can grant a decree of separation to dissatisfied parties. But while the laws regarding separation are so liberal, those concerning the licensing of marriages are extremely lax. In almost every State in the Union the minister or magistrate who solemnizes a marriage is required to furnish the contracting parties a certificate showing that they were lawful by wedded, but in Kentucky laws do not require the furnishing of such certificate. The marriage license is issued, and attached to the license is a blank certificate to be filled out by the ministers after the wedding ceremony has been performed. The laws require the minister to return this certificate to the county clerk and fixes a penalty for a failure on his part to do so. When the certificate is returned then the marriage is recorded, but no record can be made until such a return is made. A failure on the part of a minister to make a return of a marriage leaves nothing to show that a wedding ever occurred. Thus it will be seen what an immense amount of harm a little carelessness on the part of the ministers would cause. Neither husband nor wife would have the slightest evidence by which to establish the fact of their marriage. There have been many number of weddings performed in this city where the officiating ministers have failed to make returns, and the records fail to show that the marriage ceremony was ever performed. Hundreds of happy couples in Louisville are living together as man and wife, surrounded by numerous children, and should they be called upon to establish the fact that they had been lawfully married they would be unable to do so.

In conversation with a Commercial reporter yesterday, Mr. George H. Webb, the County Clerk, said: "A vast number of marriage licenses have been issued of which no return has ever been made by the minister or magistrate, and consequently the marriages are not recorded. I can't record a wedding until I know it has actually taken place, and my only way of knowing is by the return of the minister's certificate. I searched the records myself the other day to see that my marriage certificate had been returned and properly recorded. I wasn't going to take any foolish chances on it."

"Is it simply neglect on the part of the ministers and magistrates in making their returns?" "I can't see what else it can be, for they wouldn't certainly do it intentionally on account of the penalty for a failure on their part to make a return. After performing a marriage ceremony they fill out the certificate and stick it in a pigeon hole in their desk, and that is the last they ever think of it probably. Why, sometimes the certificates are not returned until several months after the marriages have taken place."

"And no record is made of a marriage until the certificate is returned?" "Of course not. How are we to know that the parties have been married? We know, of course, that a license to marry has been issued, but we have no means of knowing that the wedding ever took place."

"And the married parties have no means of proving that they are really man and wife, unless a record of the marriage is made in your office."

"Of course not, except by those who witnessed the wedding, and in case of the death of these witnesses they would be badly left."

It will readily be seen what a grand opportunity is afforded a rascal to dupe a young and unsuspecting girl through the instrumentality of the marriage certificate and a conspiring magistrate or minister. The latter could agree to never make a return of the marriage certificate, and in consequence thereof, the girl would never have anything to show that she had been married, and when her husband tired of her, he could throw her aside with impunity.

It would be well for married people in the city of Louisville to examine the records in the County Clerk's office and see that their marriages are properly recorded.—Commercial.

"You young men who pack them pistols, for God's sake lay them down and pick up a Testament."

The above words are from the lips of a man who was looking into the face of death. They are the dying utterance of Rudolph Fitzpatrick, who was hung at Columbia, Ky., a few days ago under sentence of law for killing another. Although in plain and unlettered phrase, they contain a sermon in a single sentence. It is one which every young man in Kentucky can read and ponder on with benefit to himself and society. Whenever one does read it, let him reach around and take the pistol out of his hip-pocket and pack it no more unless he packs it away in a locked trunk, only to be used in defense of life or the maintenance of law. If he doesn't, he may find himself one day making the same kind of stump speech as that from which we quote. The practice of carrying concealed weapons is a painfully prevalent among young men, in some communities those who do not wear them, being the exception. They wear them to parties and even to church—in fact the habit once acquired, the pistol becomes as much a part of one's apparel as a cravat. Is it a wonder, therefore, that there should be bloodshed with the implements of death always so near at hand? when all that is necessary to have the life of one's best friend forfeited, is to bring in intoxicating liquor as the adjunct of the pistol? Young men, remember those words at the head of this article.—Yeoman.

PRINTING-OFFICE SECRETS.

A properly conducted printing office is as much a secret as a Masonic lodge. The printers are not under oath of secrecy, but always feel themselves as truly in honor bound to keep office secrets as though triple oathed. Any employee in a printing office who willingly disregards this fact in regard to printing-office secrets would not only be scorned by his brethren of the craft, but lose his position at once. We make this statement because it sometimes happens that a communication appears in a newspaper under an assumed signature, which excites comment, and various parties try to find out who is the author. Let all be saved the trouble of questioning the employees of the printing office. They are know-nothings on such points as these.

On such matters they have eyes and ears, no month, and, if they fail to observe this rule, let them be put down as dishonorable members of the craft. If anything is to be printed and kept secret, let proper notice be given for the desire for secrecy, and you might as well question the Sphinx as one of the printers, so that even the secret books of the lodges are printed without fear.—Exchange.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Christian county are hereby called to meet in mass convention at the Court House in Hopkinsville, Saturday, April 26, 1884, at 1 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention at Frankfort, May 7, called for the purpose of sending delegates to the National Democratic Convention, at Chicago, July 8.

G. A. CHAMPLIN, Ch'm. D. C. C. C.
CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Secretary.

The Legislature has passed a resolution to adjourn April 26.

Hon. Augustus Schell died in New York last week, in the 72 year of his age.

Gen. Graham has again defeated the Egyptian rebels and the campaign is practically at an end.

A man named Herald opened a saloon in Canton, Kansas, in violation of the prohibition law, and the women of the place raided his saloon and poured his liquors into the street.

The bill prohibiting the circulation in the Police News, Police Gazette and other corrupt literature, has passed both House of the Kentucky Legislature and will become a law.

The blacks of Memphis held a meeting last week to protest against the mulattoes getting all the government appointments vouchsafed by the Republican party to the colored brethren.

Minister A. A. Sargent has been transferred from Berlin to St. Petersburg, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. W. H. Hunt. The German vacancy will not be filled for some time.

Boyd county sent 11 negroes to the penitentiary last week and Christian will send 8 this week. At this rate there will not be much of the Republican party left in Kentucky to vote in the course of a few years.

Seventy-seven Democratic members of the Legislature have expressed their choice for President as follows: McDonald, 31; Carlisle, 22; Tilden, 11; Thurman, 2; Morrison, 2; Bayard, 1; no choice 8.

Reports from every section of Kentucky are to the effect that the peach-crops are almost entirely killed, and the crop will be nearly a total failure. On Muldraugh's Hill, the finest peach country in the State, there will be none at all.

John C. Breckenridge once named a son Owen County, because that county gave him such a large majority in one of his races for Congress, and the boy is the same Owen C. Breckenridge who is now in the California Legislature from Mariposa county.

Jno. D. White has distributed through the mountain counties a fiery circular directed against Arthur, Evans and the administration in general. Chester's Presidential pathway in Kentucky is not going to be strewn with roses between now and the state convention May 1st.

Gen. Longstreet and other prominent Georgia Republicans have called a State convention of "we, the white men," to meet at Atlanta, April the 8th, to take political action in regard to the "colored brother." On the eve of a Presidential election is not a good time to begin drifting apart.

Congressman Jas. F. Clay made his maiden speech last week in favor of the Bonded Extension Whisky Bill and acquitted himself with much credit. Mr. Clay has not made himself as prominent in Congress as his friends expected he would. Robertson and Woolford, both new members, attracted attention early in the session.

The transfer of Minister Sargent from Germany to Russia means more than a promotion for him. It means that the President has withdrawn a diplomatic representative from the insolent Bismarck's domain, on account of his recent insult in regard to the Lasker matter, and there is a strong probability at present that the place will be left vacant indefinitely.

The scintillating genius who does the brain work on the "Kentucky News" column of the Louisville Post, has emitted the following spark of wit:

We need a society for the prevention of cruelty to infants. Zeno Young, of the Madisonville Times, has handicapped his new-born girl baby with the name of "Mercham!" Poor little innocent.

Carl Schurz, of New York, may be a great man but he is a fool in one respect, at least. He declined the other day to accept a testimonial of $100,000 tendered him by his friends, upon the ground that "a mere matter of feeling" would not allow him to accept such gifts while he was able to work. Does anybody want to try us with a similar "testimonial"? If so, we will show Mr. Schurz to what an extent great minds sometimes differ on a given subject.

SIN--SIN--NAUGHTY.

GRIM VISAGED WAR.

A Howling Mob attacks the Cincinnati Jail to Lynch Murderers but are Repulsed.

For Three Days the City is Turned Into a Battlefield and her Streets are Red With Blood.

The Jail is Fired and the Court-house Burned With all the Valuable Records.

Nearly 100 Killed and Wounded and 10,000 Soldiers are Hurlled to the City to Quell the Riot.

The Murderers Escape and the Mob is Dispersed at the Point of the Bayonet.

The Rattle of Mucketry and the Roar of Cannon Strike Terror to the hearts of the Citizens.

THE BLOODY DETAILS.

WHAT CAUSED THE MOB.

Last Christmas a white man named Berner and a negro named Palmer brutally murdered their employer, an old man named W. H. Kirk, in Cincinnati, and robbed him of a few dollars. They confessed and the crime was a most atrocious one with no palliating circumstances. Berner was put on trial last week and on Tuesday the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter and fixed his punishment at 20 years in the penitentiary. Palmer has not yet been tried. This aroused a storm of indignation, and a meeting of the citizens was held at Music Hall Friday night.

"A few minutes after 8 o'clock there must have been 10,000 people in the hall. This temple devoted to music and the drama, so often resonant with the notes of operatic stars and the lusty cheering for the acts of famous tragedians, now trembled under the weight of thousands of honest citizens to give expression to outraged feelings in behalf of outraged justice. No dramatic festival, no opera festival, no convention, no meeting of any kind ever held in Music Hall ever numbered so many people."

The meeting was organized by the selection of Dr. Kemper as President and a large number of Vice-Presidents, among whom were Ex-Gov. R. M. Bishop, Gen. Andrew Hickenlooper, and Hon. Benjamin Eggleston.

Resolutions were drawn up, protesting against the action of the Berner jury and speeches were made by the Chairman, Gen. Hickenlooper, Judge Carter and others which, while they counseled moderation, served to fan the passions of the vast audience into flames and when the infuriated crowd left the Hall a little before 10 o'clock a cry "TO THE JAIL AND HANG THE MURDERERS" was heard and the great throng surged in a mass to the jail where 35 murderers were confined, awaiting trial. The riot alarm was sounded which brought out the entire police force, the military and the fire department. The mob had broken down the front doors of the jail and were inside when the militia got into the jail by an underground passage and opened fire on the men who were looking for Berner in the cells.

It turned out that young Berner, whom the mob particularly wanted to lynch so bad, was not in jail, having been started to the Columbus penitentiary at 6 o'clock. When the train reached Loveland 15 miles from the city it was attacked by a mob there and Berner escaped from both his guards and the mob in the excitement. He was captured the next morning and gotten safely into the penitentiary, evading a mob at Columbus by having the train stop at the penitentiary before reaching the city. In the first conflict at the jail two policemen and six of the mob were killed and 46 wounded, some fatally. Two militiamen were wounded.

THE JAIL FIRED.

The mob then set fire to the jail in the rear and all of the frame part burned, but the main building built of stone and iron could not be ignited. At 4 o'clock Saturday morning the mob set fire to the jail again in the cellar, but it was put out by the police with the jail appliances. Many of the prisoners were almost suffocated by the smoke in the corridors. Gus Haines, a stalwart mulatto and fourteen other leaders were captured and locked up in jail and after fighting all night the mob was dispersed at daylight, leaving the police in possession.

GUN-STORES AND ARMORIES GUTTED.

After leaving the jail the mob went to Kittredge's gun-store, broke out the front and gutted the store of all the weapons and ammunition it contained. Kittredge will sue the county for $16,000 damages. They then raided the armory and got 125 muskets. By this time the crowd was so thinned out at the jail that no further attack was made. The sheriff and posse, 13 in number, were on the inside and the police force and military surrounded the jail and kept order, during the day Saturday.

TROOPS ORDERED TO THE FRONT.

The crowd that surrounded the jail all day Saturday left no doubt that the attack would be renewed at night. During the day the Governor ordered the 14th regiment O. N. G. four companies, Governor's Guards and Palmer Guards, (colored) to go to Cincinnati on a special train. They were joined by one company from Loveland, one from Waynesville, a regiment from Dayton, the Sioux battery, of Springfield and Smith Knight's battery of Cleveland and by Saturday night 1000 soldiers, with several pieces of artillery, had reached Cincinnati.

HOSTILITIES RENEWED.

By 9 o'clock Saturday night, the mob reinforced until it was probably 30,000 strong was ready to renew the attack with fire-arms, rocks and anything else that could be used as a weapon. All of the approaches to the jail were guarded by troops. Before the hour of midnight another attack was made on the jail and the reign of blood-shed was once more inaugurated. The mob was repulsed but returned and set fire to the magnificent court house which was burned and all of the valuable records destroyed.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

"Such a scene as that around the courthouse and county jail was perhaps never witnessed before. It was once of carnage and bloodshed almost unparalleled. A surging mass of humanity boldly faced the bayonets of the militia, demanding as the price of their withdrawal the surrender of men confined in the jail on the charge of murder. The demands were not complied with, and a terrible slaughter of human beings was the result.

Before dusk Colonel Hawkins stationed his sentinels at various points, and none to soon. Immediately the people commenced to gather. As their numbers swelled they became more defiant and less obedient to the commands of the militia and policemen. Matters stood thus, new arrivals constantly putting in an appearance until about 9 o'clock. Suddenly, without a moment's warning, a rush was made on the guards. Some few were overpowered and disarmed, while others were driven back. Several men acting as leaders burst open the door of the county treasurer's office. Several barrels of coal oil were rolled in and a match touched to them. In an instant the office was in flames. The release of the men arrested on Friday night and imprisoned as leaders was demanded and refused. The flames quickly crept up the stairs, leading from the treasurer's office to the auditor's from there in turn they passed to the prosecuting attorney's office and the recorder's office, and so on. When the engines arrived the firemen were advised to return to their houses, and they acted upon the advice. Captain Divine and J. J. Desmond, captain of Company C, 1st regiment, attempted to drag a line of hose into the treasurer's office. They persisted in their efforts to reach the door after being warned. There was an explosion and flash, and Captain Desmond dropped dead, with the top of his head shot off. This was the signal for a regular fusillade. Volley after volley was fired, and scores dropped in their tracks. The records in the different offices were food for the flames. They finally reached the law library, the value of which was almost incalculable. Years had been spent in making the collections, only to have the whole consumed in a single night.

It was founded in 1834 and held over 15,000 books.

An incalculable loss is thrown upon property holders by the destruction of the general index series and records of deeds, mortgages, and leases. All these precious documents were treasured by Auditor Rabenstein. Without them, titles to property will be most difficult to establish. Litigation is certain to spring up on all sides."

The 14th Regiment, 735 men, arrived at 3 o'clock and charged and dispersed the mob around the courthouse and kept three engines throwing water on the wreck. The mob was reinforced and by daylight had four cannons and were still determined to fight.

Sunday morning the troops had out pickets and every man who ventured inside the line was shot by the militia. About midnight a crowd attempted to gut Powell's gun store but after the proprietor had killed two men and wounded two others from an upper window the attempt was abandoned.

During the day Sunday peace committees were organized, proclamations were made by the Mayor and the State troops continued to arrive, all the Ohio militia being ordered to Cincinnati.

At 9:25 Sunday night, a mob broke into Music Hall and got a cannon but two companies of soldiers charged them and got in from them without blood-shed. This was the only thing in the shape of an organized effort Sunday night. About 12 o'clock the mob from the house tops fired down on the militia and wounded two citizens.

The extent of the casualties Sunday night was four wounded and none killed. The warlike movements of Sunday overpowered the mob and by Monday quiet was restored and several thousand soldiers were in possession of the city.

THE RESULTS.

The latest reports up to yesterday placed the number of the killed at 28 and the wounded at 54 on all sides, but the list is still imperfect. It is by no means improbable that the dead and wounded will reach 100 when all are reported. Of these were two policemen, and one captain and several privates of the militia but most of the injured were of the mob forces and spectators.

Berner is in the penitentiary and the other murderers are still safe in jail and nothing has been accomplished after all. The loss of property will go into the millions to say nothing of the blood-shed. And all this, it must be remembered, is north of the Ohio river.

The City Council of Lexington, has passed an ordinance prohibiting policemen from entering saloons except when called in discharge of duty.

The Owensboro Messenger in speaking of the coming race for Congress, answers a question concerning the probable candidacy of Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie:

"This question may be asked in nearly every county in the district during the coming summer. It is certain that Mr. Clay will offer for re-election, and friends of Mr. McKenzie say that he has recovered his eyesight and health, and will be in the ring again for the Congressional nomination this year. No two men in the district are so well known or so popular. McKenzie, at the time he retired on account of his failing eyesight, was invincible in the district. He has lost nothing since then, but Clay has gained much. Though he has been in his seat in congress but a few months, he has impressed his constituents with his ability. He has taken high rank for a new member, among the Congressmen. In the memorable fight for the nomination between these men in 1878, McKenzie proved to be more popular, carrying seven of the ten counties of the district. Then he occupied the position Clay is in now. He had served but a portion of his first term, and was before his people asking an endorsement. He felt that he should be returned to Congress without opposition. Clay feels the same way now; but he was not generous to McKenzie then, and the latter will not be likely to return good for evil. If both announce themselves, and we have every reason to believe they will, another bitter and exciting canvass will ensue."

Mr. McKenzie's friends think "Quinine Jim" has been magnanimous enough to Mr. Clay to step aside and let him go to Congress one term when every well-informed man knew that he could have been re-nominated without a personal canvass. When the proper time comes Mr. McKenzie's friends all over the district will demand of him the use of his name in the approaching contest and if he consents to run and we see no reason why he should not—it is putting it very mild to say that Mr. Clay will have some trouble in succeeding himself in Congress. His own record in the past will not allow him to make a plea for an "endorsement" and besides he will go into the race handicapped by his treatment of Tom Pettit in the Madisonville Convention.

Conservatism will insure harmony in the Democratic party. The Democrats of Congress are men who will not follow the advice of self-constituted leaders and read one-third of their number out of the party and into the ranks of the Republicans. These fanatics have been sat upon. The caucus held decided to pass "a bill" reducing the tariff and not necessarily the Morrison Bill. That is all the people want and it is all the party will do at this time. This is no time for strife within the party. Let harmony and unity prevail and let the extremists of both factions be relegated to the rear and the prudent, conservative leaders of the party be intrusted with the task of formulating the Platform of the coming campaign.

The facts have just leaked out that a couple of Milwaukee boys, seventeen or eighteen years old, one the son of a wholesale grocer, and the other the son of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad official, followed the Ida Siddons Female Minstrels from that city to Chicago, and while there were married to two of the members of the organization. After remaining several days they returned home and their brides went along with the Company. The parents of the youngsters will probably take steps to have the marriages set aside.

Sam'l P. Messick, aged 60, and Mrs. Mary M. Ewing, aged 57 years, were married in Louisville after an acquaintance of three days. The groom had buried four wives and the bride three husbands. He has 12 children and 4 grand-children and she has 10 children and 3 grand-children.

SOCIALITIES.

Insure with T. W. & F. W. Buckner.

Mr. C. B. Bostwick, pension agent, is in the city.

Mr. C. M. Latham has returned from New York.

Mr. V. M. Metcalfe is at home again this week.

Mrs. T. S. Sallee, of Trigg county, was in the city Saturday.

Rev. J. N. Prestridge, of New Castle, will return home to-day.

Messrs. H. C. Richards and Jas. T. Gant returned from Cincinnati Saturday night.

Mr. Elbridge Bradshaw, of Pembroke, has returned from Texas much pleased with the country.

Mr. W. S. Cheatham, of this county, has accepted a position as traveling salesman with the D. M. Osborne Machine company.

Miss Cora Baker left yesterday for Hopkinsville where she will visit relatives.—Princeton Banner.

Mrs. W. W. Williams, of Hopkinsville, is the guest of Mrs. Meriwether of Meriville, Ky.—Clarksville Democrat.

Small-Pox in the County.

Mrs. Mattie Rawlins, wife of Mr. Luther Rawlins, died of small-pox Sunday, at her home three miles from Pembroke. She had been sick several days, but the nature of her disease was not discovered until Friday. She was attended by Drs. Marshall and Robertson, of Pembroke. She broke out with the disease Friday and the announcement was at once made that she had small-pox. She continued to grow worse rapidly until she died. It is thought that a servant girl hired in Henderson brought the disease in her bed clothes. Two negro girls on the place were sick some days ago with what is now thought to have been varioloid. Many of the neighbors visited Mrs. Rawlins before they found out what her disease was and it is very probable that there will be other cases. The Rawlins homestead is three miles from Pembroke and eight miles from this city. One lady, who kissed Mrs. Rawlins on Friday, has made her preparations to have small-pox, and has furnished an isolated cabin to be moved into as soon as she takes it.

DIED.

MOSLEY—Mr. John Mosley, son of Mr. Jno. L. Mosley, of Fairview, and a nephew of Messrs. Thos. L. and W. J. Graham, died in Florida last week, where he had gone in search of health. He was a very worthy young man, about 19 years old, and died of consumption. His remains were brought back to this county for interment, last Saturday.

RAWLINS—At the residence of her husband, Luther Rawlins, Esq., near Pembroke, Sunday, March 30, 1884, Mrs. Mattie Rawlins, aged about 60 years. She was a good and pious lady.

To Ministers and Magistrates.

In another column of this issue will be found an article from the Louisville Commercial, in regard to the negligence of ministers and magistrates in having certificates of marriage returned and placed on record. The Commercial caused quite a sensation in Louisville, and on the day following the appearance of the article we re-produced, 500 certificates were returned. The Jefferson county records show that there have been 9000 marriages since 1849 which have never been recorded, and many of the couples would be unable to-day to prove that they were married. This state of affairs exists in every county in Kentucky. We examined the records in the clerk's office here yesterday, and from October 1875 to Jan. 1st, 1884, 195 cases occur where marriage licenses were issued and the certificates never returned. One of these is that of a minister living in this city, who has been married several years. We noticed several other instances of prominent citizens, and if there are not living witnesses they could not establish the fact that their marriages were ever legally solemnized. This number was found in the white book alone, and it extended back only eight years. If the records should be examined for forty years, no doubt thousands of cases would be found where the law had been thus violated. The penalty is a fine of $50 if the certificates are not returned in three months. Ministers and magistrates had better begin to search in their desks, drawers, closets and in the pockets of their old clothes for these missing documents, for when this matter is laid before the people, there will be many who will want to know whether they are legally married or not, and whether that fact could be established in a court of law. It is not too late to record the certificates, and if the officiating clergymen and esquires have lost the certificates attached to the license they had better go to the clerk's office and get duplicates and have them recorded at once. In the meanwhile those who are more directly interested would do well to examine the register themselves and see if their marriages are on record.

Mr. J. T. Bagby, of Garrettsburg, became the happy father of twins on the 23rd ult.—a boy and a girl. Mr. Bagby has been married five years and his wife has presented him with five children in that time.

Now ready at M. Frankel & Sons' a mammoth stock of dry goods, laces, calicos and cottons of the best brands and latest patterns, at prices which defy competition. Ladies should not fail to call at the Old Reliable and select from this elegant stock of dry goods.

Mr. A. W. Pyle, the furniture man, is daily receiving large consignments of every kind and style of furniture which he is offering to the trade at the lowest prices. If you are in need of furniture of any kind do not purchase until you have inspected his stock.

Harry Garner, son of Mr. H. B. Garner, a youth about 18 years old, was badly hurt by a piece of falling timber while passing in front of the Episcopal church, last Saturday. The workmen let it fall just as he was passing and he was struck on the head and a deep gash made. He is able to sit up now and with good luck nothing serious is apprehended.

A little son of Mr. W. T. Vaughn, of this county, has a pair of goats which he drives to a wagon made for the purpose and has been so driving them for two years. Last Saturday he hauled a load to the field with them and after unloading, the goats became frightened and ran away, dragging the youth for a quarter of a mile and bruising and battering him in a frightful manner. He, however, did not sustain any very serious injuries.

G. W. Saunders, of Mayfield, brother to the editor of the Index, was tried last Monday in Mayfield, on a charge of insanity, and the proof was that he received a wound in the head while in the army, from the effects of which he has suffered ever since, and recently the suffering has been to such an extent that he is both mentally and physically unable to make a support. He was sent on Tuesday to the Asylum at Hopkinsville, where it is hoped the treatment will give him relief. He is perfectly conscious of his condition, and went willingly to the Asylum, hoping that he would be benefited by the treatment.—Fulton Index.

The telegraph office has been moved to the new Hopper Block, on East Main street, and the office has been fitted up in a very handsome style. The improvement is one long needed, as the old office was not at all creditable to the company or the city. Mrs. Randle and Miss Park are now located in their new quarters, which are not only elegantly furnished and carpeted, but an iron railing and nice desk have taken the place of the old wooden counter. The office is now a very neat one and with two skilled operators the city has first-class telegraphic facilities.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Mess. McKee & Pool, the enterprising and prosperous Nashville street grocers. Their house has recently undergone repairs, and they have been adding to their stock from day to day, until they now have one of the largest and most attractive stocks to be found in the city. They sell whiskies by wholesale and country merchants should not fail to call on them when needing anything in that line. They also handle country produce and pay the highest market price for same. The firm is composed of Mr. Chas. McKee and W. A. Pool. Mr. Lem McKee represents his father's interest in the business, and is a general clever gentleman, and a salesman of the highest order. Mr. W. A. Pool is well-known to the people of Christian county as a gentleman of the strictest integrity and moral worth. Messrs. Richards and Crabb are their polite and attentive salesmen. We take great pleasure in commending this firm to the people, as worthy of their confidence and patronage.

Don't forget the New Orleans Minstrels Thursday night. It is one of the best companies on the road.

"Bunch of Keys" booked for next Saturday night, the 5th, is one of the very best comedies ever presented here. It is a capital play by a first-class company. Mr. Rodgers, the manager of the Opera House, says it is one of the best attractions of the season.

We learn that Mr. M. D. Kelly, our enterprising jeweler is going to place a time ball on top of his building, so that it can be seen from all parts of the city, and will be dropped by electricity exactly at 9 A. M., 12 M., and 3 P. M. This will be much better than to strike the hours on a bell, which is so annoying to many, especially the sick.

Rev. J. N. Prestridge, of New Castle, closed the protracted meeting at the Baptist church yesterday evening. The result of the meeting was 34 accessions—30 by experience, 3 by letter and 1 by restoration. Rev. E. C. Gates preached several nights last week, but returned Friday to his home in Brownsville, Tenn. Rev. Mr. Prestridge has ingratiated himself into the hearts of the people here by his excellent qualities as a minister in and out of the pulpit. It is the earnest desire of almost all of the church members that he be called to the vacant pastorate. The church meeting will be held at prayer meeting to-morrow night, and it is very probable that he will be called. It is at least to be hoped so, as no man can be found who would give more universal satisfaction to all classes of the membership. The following are the names of those who have joined since our last report: Dr. Howe H. Wallace, Dick Hatcher, and Misses Bettie Campbell, Eunice Fuqua, Della Fuqua, Fannie Gobin, Felle Payne and Cora Petree.

That kindly feeling that should be cherished by a congregation for its pastor was most touchingly shown last Tuesday in the action of the ladies of the Baptist church towards their pastor, Dr. A. D. Sears, and his good wife. The occasion was the fifty-sixth anniversary of their marriage. Some days beforehand the ladies got together and resolved to give the good couple a genuine surprise. To accomplish it, it was necessary that they be gotten from home. So Tuesday morning Mrs. Jno. Hurst wrote them an urgent note requesting that they spend the day with her. The family carriage was sent for them and they were not permitted to decline the invitation. No sooner had they gone than the ladies took possession of their pretty home. Beautiful flowers and other beautiful presents were brought, and according to a prearranged program each furnished some dish, the whole making a most sumptuous and elegant supper, embracing everything from an exquisitely wrought bride's cake to the simplest dish. The good couple had no intimation of the affair, and great was their surprise on their return to find their doors open, the guests arrived, and the wedding supper for their fifty-sixth anniversary waiting.—Clarksville Tobacco Leaf.
